

What simple pleasures of life do you truly enjoy?

I enjoy having people at our home. Especially our family and friends.

I envy people whose children and grandchildren live in the same town and who drop in often.

I like to bake and cook. Would like it better if I had a clean up crew.

I like going for walks in Heery Woods Park on the bike trail and seeing the different seasons. It is very pretty in the spring and fall. An occasional deer will stop in the woods and watch us as we watch them.

We enjoy having friends in for playing cards, going to movies, and going for breakfast on Saturday mornings. I love the weekday morning coffee group. This group gives me a good reason to get up and get moving in the mornings. Of course, we may gossip a little but mostly we just have fun.

Joyce Fenneman

The thing I've enjoyed most over the years has been traveling. It has been hard to give that up as we have gotten older and are not comfortable with driving in heavy traffic.