

How do you want to be remembered?

Iwould like to be remembered as an honest person who worked hard and loved his family and friends. My family has always been the most important thing in my life

I have never been one to tell my children, grandchildren and great grandchildren how much I love them. But, I'm sure they know how important they are to me.